Hunter Grasso concentrates his practice in the areas of bankruptcy, insolvency, and commercial litigation. His experience includes representing debtors, creditors, creditors' committees, and trustees in bankruptcy proceedings; investigating and prosecuting director and officer liability claims; and commercial litigation in state and federal court.

Hunter has a growing interest in crypto, digital assets, and blockchain technology. He frequently writes about novel and emerging issues in the industry, with an emphasis on the intersection of crypto and bankruptcy law.

Prior to joining Bast Amron, Hunter practiced in the Miami office of a national firm and gained litigation experience representing developers and general contractors in complex commercial disputes. He also served as a Judicial Extern to the Honorable A. Jay Cristol, Chief Judge Emeritus U.S. Bankruptcy Court, Southern District of Florida, and as a Judicial Extern to the Honorable Laurel M. Isicoff, Chief Judge, U.S. Bankruptcy Court, Southern District of Florida. Hunter earned his J.D. from the University of Miami School of Law, where he graduated with honors, and his B.A. from Coastal Carolina University.
